He will undoubtedly make these two trips, but what can not be decided is whether he should return to Miami Beach from Fort Myers before going to Lake Okeechobee.

His callers today included David Baird, jr., admitted boss of Southern New Jersey Republican politics, the Klan belt, who said he talked about nothing but these politics, and Harry Fiddler, president of the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association, who had charge of the labor division in the Harding campaign.

Mallard, off Key Vest, Fla., Feb. 6 (N.Y.W.N.S.) .- The Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 6.—President-elect Hoover has apparently brought Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, into line on the tariff. The senator appeared here Monday asserting that there had to be a general upward revision of tariff schedules, that the very prosperity of the country depended to the submarine S-4, long, gray body of the long, gray body of the long, gray body of prosperity of the country depended upon it.

Today, after three days of fishing and talking with Mr. Hoover he said he saw no reason why the revision had to be so general. There are only a comparatively few schedules, he declared, that need the strong arm of the tariff makers, although, of course, all will be looked into.

Smedley D. Butler Back From China

Brigadier General, Marine Leader Abroad, Plans Visit With Son.

San Francisco, Feb. 6 (A.P.).—Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler returned today aboard the President McKinley on his way to Washington after an absence of two years and a half in China. He declared that reeling toward the American soldier in China has greatly changed within the last few years.

"When we arrived the people protested bitterly," said the brigadier general, "but when we left they presented us with a silver shield and expressed regrets at our leaving. China is quiet these days and is as safe for Americans as is America. The Nationalist governlabor post in the Cabinet he modestly explained that he had turned down a Cabinet post under Harding and taken instead a place on the Federal Board of Vocational Education.

More interest attached to the information that Claudius Huston was in the offing.

Huston was a campaign money collector extraordinary both in 1920 and in the last campaign. His political activities used to be associated with the South, but he has broadened out so much that he presented Horace A. Mann this campaign to take his place as southern generalissimo, and as a result is given full credit for having produced this genius.

His three daughters are visiting with these days and is as safe for Americans as is America. The Nationalist government has come to stay and is firmly entrenched. Throughout our stay our policy was not to interfere and our troops did not fire a shot."

Gen. Butler leaves tonight for Los Angeles for a week's visit with his son before proceeding to Washington.

"If this occurs," the statement continued, "it will by no means be a surprise to us, and in our judgment will occur for the purpose of attempting to control public sentiment and convince the citizenship that he is released from the ahackles which have heretofore bound him to these appointees and employes, and that he is released from the influence which they have in the past been able to exert over him.

"We anticipate, however, if this action takes place and if it restores confidence in the public, sufficient to return him to his position, that immediately after this legislature had adjourned he would replace each of these parties and feel himself secure throughout the remainder of his term. I do not believe that he would hest tate to trample the confidence of his citizenship under his feet in this manner. I say this from past experiences with his promises."

Mrs. Hammonds' activities. Mrs. Get Wray, discharged by Johnston as chief clerk upon his suspension, the committee that Mrs. Hammond had said the governor was "gullible would do anything he was told and the he must be protected from those would injure him."

Searched Desks, is Charge.

At one time, Mrs. Wray said, Mrs. Hammonds became angered because the clerk would not give her a list of visitors to the executive office and told Mrs. Wray that she could turn the governor against her "within 30 minutes." Mrs. Wray said that the woman secretary made a common practice of searching through the desks of all employes of the governor's office, and that on one occasion she appropriated a letter she found on the desk of H. E. Sullivan, private secretary, destroying the envelope that contained it.

Sullivan, called to the stand, said he had been informed of the incident and had asked Mrs. Hammonds for the letter. At first she desiled taking it, Sullivan said, but later admitted it.

The lexicon of terms attributed to Mrs. Hammonds in describing the governor was enriched by the addition of "incompetent, with the backbone of a jellyfish." Roy Burton, auditor of the State board of affairs, told the house investigating committee he heard Mrs. Hammonds employ the term.

Frevious witnesses had testified they heard Mrs. Hammonds say the governor was "absolutely incompetent" and that if it were not f. her the "administration would go on the rocks."

Maj. Segrave said that the 9-mile beach at Daytona, where the race will be run, is 2 miles longer than he needs. He said he would need 3 miles to attain maximum speed, and it would take him 3 miles to come to a halt. The course on which he will be clocked is 1 mile long.

High Fuel Distillate.

The racer had a party of fourteen with him, including Capt. J. S. Irving, designer of the Golden Arrow and of the major's former record holder, the Sunbeam, which had an official speed of 203.79 miles an hour. Seven of the fourteen were mechanics who will groom the Golden Arrow for its recordseeking flight.

The Golden Arrow is 27 feet 8 inches held in $10,000 ball yesterday by United The Golden Arrow is 27 feet 8 inches long with a wheel tread of 5 feet. It has a 12-cylinder 900-horsepower airplane motor. Low gear speed is 81 miles an hour and second speed 180. Charges of alding and abetting in the tires are guaranteed to last 15 seconds at 240 miles an hour. The fuel is a distillate so refined that it is almost the equivalent of alcohol, but with the explosive quality that alcohol lacks. The radiator is packed with cracked ice;

As airplanes have surfaces so constructed as to lift them into the air the Golden Arrow has planes on each side built so as to keep it on the ground during the race.

Maj. Segrave said he had made his usual insurance arrangement to cover him for this race. The policy is for 225,000, is good for two days after he notifies the company that he is ready for the race, and the premium is $1,750 a day.

Smart, Caused by Defeat of Flag Amendment, Brings New Tirade.

SMILES AT SMITH'S FALL

Smarting under the overwhelming defeat of his flag amendment to the cruiser bill, Senator Heffin (Democrat), Alabama, yesterday resumed his attack on the Roman Catholic Church and Alfred E. Smith. He told the Senate that the ten senators who supported his measure would be immortal and those who opposed it would be defeated. The purse and its contents were brought to this city for safe keeping and representatives of the owner were notified. They stated that they would come here tomorrow to pay the reward and claim the valuables. Miss Ponselle sang selections in five languages, English, French, Spanish, Italian and German, displaying linguistic ability as diversified as her voice itself. ROYALTY and the smart culture voices an opinion held by specialists on skin care women of London have, for all over the world.

Why palm and olive oils

The poisonous and dangerous secretions of dirt and dust, of make-up and cream which find their way deep into the pores must be removed, Jacobson will tell you. Palm and olive oils, as they are blended in Palmolive Soap, act to soften the skin, to cleanse the pores, to refresh the natural coloring. They provide the natural way to skin beauty.

In America this is, of course, well known. Leading specialists advise the Palmolive method of skin care wherever beauty culture is practiced.

The method they use is that subscribed to by Madame Jacobson. This treatment, night and morning: make a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. With both hands massage this well into the skin two minutes, allowing it to penetrate the pores. Then rinse, first with warm water, gradually with colder. A final rinse with ice water is refreshing as an astringent.

For a dry skin, a touch of cold cream before adding powder and rouge; for oily skin, an astringent lotion, a surface application of vanishing cream before make-up. The is what specialists tell you!

AMERICAN SHIPBUILDING DECLINES.

In spite of all the efforts made by the Government to foster an adequate American merchant marine, construction of merchant vessels in this country shows a serious decline. compared with healthy gains by competitor nations. The report of Lloyd's Register of Shipping, which covers the launching of vessels of 100 tons or more in all countries, shows a gain of more than 400,000 gross tens in the world production of merchant vessels in 1928. The total production was 2,699,239 tons, which represents a gain of 18 per cent for Great Britain and Ireland, gains averaging 32 per cent for other maritime nations, and a loss of 50 per cent for the United States.

Shipbuilding in this country fell off from 179,218 gross tons in 1927 to 91,357 gross tons in the year just closed. The United States dropped from third to seventh place among the shipbuilding nations, and now England, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Japan build more merchant ships than this country. The construction program last year was the smallest by far since the beginning of the war. In 1919, when shipbuilding reached its peak in this country, the American yards launched 2,455,000 gross tons more than Great Britain. Two years later the British were again in the lead, and now that lead has been extended to more than 1,000,000 tons per year.

The seriousness of the situation becomes immediately apparent when it is realized that American foreign trade is rapidly developing and must keep on developing if the prosperity of this country is to continue. Figures released recently by the Department of Commerce show greatest for all time, except 1920. The work of the Department of Commerce in seeking out new markets for American goods and the improvement in overseas transportation made saible through establishment of regular de-Ivery by American ships are two of the leading factors in this trade extension. To maintain the position of this country in overseas markets, in the face of increasing competition, more ships are needed.

The United States can never again intrust its foreign commerce to tramp ships such as carried 70 per cent of our shipping before the war. American goods must be carried in American ships. Use of foreign vessels for our trade with other nations means playing into the hands of competitors. One of the nost urgent economic needs of the Nation is a greater merchant fleet

The question is one that must be given atention by Congress, for it has been repeatedly demonstrated that private shipbuilders are unable to compete with those of other lands. est of ship construction in American yards is approximately 50 per cent more than in the principal foreign shipyards, and the cost of ration under the American flag is likewise 50 per cent greater. This makes cooperation of the Government imperative if American foreign commerce is to be continued and the American standard of living maintained. In lew of the importance of foreign trade to the untry as a whole, the necessity of more libral Government aid in construction of a merhant fleet should be recognized. The existing law is paving the way to increased shipbuilding, but the Government should do still

SPAIN'S UNREST.

Primo de Rivera is having his troubles in ing down the lid in Spain. Communist stion, stimulated by conspirators in neighcountries, has for its object the overw of the dictator and the throne itself. ection in the army has been manifest rer since the Morocco troubles, and but for ne de Rivera the country might have been unged into civil war. He has managed to we order by arbitrary methods. King so appears to have conceded extraordiary powers to his prime minister somewhat ntly, but always in time to prevent the ent of worse conditions than those ng from the dictatorship.

The popularity of the king throughout in is the strongest factor in combating the pted forces. Premier de Rivera has been in the exercise of his power, by makall opposition take the form of disloyalty the throne. Thus treason to the dictator is on to the king. But on the other hand, mier himself has been absolutely loyal, tified in one emergency after another. ork of communist conspiracy that is throughout Europe is opposed by each at according to its peculiar position, or a surveillance that is unknown in this . Signor Mussolini has gone further than Premier Poincare or Premier de Rivera in ruthless measures of extermination of red agitators. Perhaps for this very reason the hotbed of intrigue is no longer in Italy, but in France and along the Spanish border. The extent to which the Spanish army has been demoralized by this propaganda is disclosed only in part by the abortive attempts at Ciudad Real, Segovia, and Valencia to stir the troops to revolt. Incessant watchfulness and prompt suppression of the first signs of disorder are apparently the only means by which the reds can be prevented from turning loyal military and naval forces into machines for the destruction of government.

GAMBLING IN FUTURES.

Senator Caraway's bill to prevent the fictitious sale of cotton and grain in future markets has been given approval by the Senate committee on agriculture and forestry. The bill makes it unlawful for a person to send any message offering "to enter into a contract for the purchase or sale, for future delivery, of cotton or grain without intending that such cotton or grain shall be actually delivered or received." Transmission of such messages would be considered interference with interstate commerce and would be punishable by fines ranging from $1,000 to $10,000 or imprisonment. A person sending a message dealing with such contracts for future delivery would be required to file an affidavit with the telegraph or telephone company, stating that he is the owner of the grain or cotton in question and that he intends to make actual deliveries. Both the person sending prohibited messages and companies transmitting them would be liable to prosecution, and printed matter tending to promote dealing in futures would be nonmailable.

Senator Caraway's measure does not attempt to prohibit a farmer from selling crops which he expects to mature later on in the season, and thus would not prevent grain or cotton mills from providing for future supplies of raw materials. Any farmer could sell his crop for delivery at maturity, and this contract could be resold. But it would be unlawful for a person to sell grain or cotton which he did not possess and had no prospects of possessing, and which he did not intend to deliver. In short, it is aimed at the speculators who grow rich by gambling in more or less mythical contracts affecting farm products.

The Government has undertaken regulation of dealings in cotton and grain futures and it has failed. Both the markets can be manipulated under the present regulatory acts, with the result that consumers pay high prices and the farmers receive inadequate returns for their products. The country will welcome any practical scheme which will allow restoration of an honest, free and open market on these agricultural products, subject to the laws of supply and demand. The measure is of foremost importance to producer and consumer alike and should be passed by Congress along with the other measures contemplated for agricultural relief.

THE LUMP SUM.

It has been the District's contention since Congress set aside substantive law and established the lump-sum precedent, that in justice and equity there should be a return on the part of the Government to the proportioncost of maintaining the local government. A corollary contention has been that the $9,000,-000 lump is inadequate. The Senate appropriations committee, by the act of increasing to $10,000,000 the $9,000,000 lump sum set by the House, now admits the justice of the corollary contention. It remains to be seen what fate awaits the Senate committee's proposal.

In the past the Senate has indicated a tendency to deal fairly with the District. The present measure containing the $10,000,000 provision almost certainly will pass the Senate. The measure then will go back to the House, and conferees will be appointed to iron out the disputed points.

The House, through its conferees, will insist that the $9,000,000 clause be restored. The cheese-parers will offer the usual arguments in an effort to prove that the District is a leech seeking to such a golden stream from the Federal Treasury. Will the Senate this time stand fast, or will it follow precedent and again surrender a just position for an unjust one?

HAWKS' ACHIEVEMENT.

The important feature of Frank M. Hawks' record-breaking flight from coast to coast is not that it moved Los Angeles some 36 minutes closer to New York, but that an aviator, in the dead of winter and in the face of extremely adverse weather conditions, should have been able to complete the flight at all. Almost all the way across the continent Hawks was forced to fly at extremely high altitudes to avoid storm and prevent the formation of ice on the wings of the plane. His vision cut off by cloud banks, Hawks "flew blind" over two-thirds of the way, yet he was able to set his plane down at Roosevelt Field only 18 hours and 22 minutes after he had left California. The flight demonstrated again the reliability of the modern plane and the practicability of the navigational devices that have been developed for aircraft.

SPECULATIVE LOANS.

For a year or more, says the Federal Reserve Board in a statement issued yesterday, the functioning of the Federal Reserve System has encountered interference by reason of the excessive amount of the country's credit absorbed in speculative security loans. The volume of speculative credit, it adds, is still growing. On several occasions warnings have been issued by the board against the extension of credit for speculative purposes, but the market showed only temporary reaction. One of two conclusions must be drawn: Either the market is functioning without any considerable assistance from Federal Reserve member banks, or else such banks, disregarding the instructions of the board, are still making heavy loans for speculative purposes. "The Federal Reserve Board," says the statement, "neither assumes the right nor has it any disposition to set itself up as an arbiter of security speculation or values. It is, however, its business to see to it that Federal Reserve Banks function as effectively as conditions will permit. When it finds that conditions are arising which obstruct Federal Reserve Banks in the effective discharge of their function of so managing the credit facilities of the Federal Reserve System as to accommodate commerce and business, it is its duty to inquire into them and to take such measures as may be deemed suitable and effective in the circumstances to correct them; which, in the immediate situation means to restrain the use, either directly or indirectly, of Federal Reserve credit facilities in aid of the growth of speculative credit."

The board has issued a well-timed warning that should not go unheeded. Its application should have no permanent effect upon the position of the market. The board will be serving the best interests of commerce and industry if it enforces rigorously a policy of refusing rediscount facilities to member banks seeking funds either for the purpose of making or maintaining speculative loans.

MARRIAGE LAWS By GEOFFREY MAY,

Russell Sage Foundation.

Forty-eight States and the District of Columbia have upon their statute books laws regulating marriage. The wide divergencies among these laws, their excellencies and deficiencies and modern trends in State control over marriage are shown in an exhaustive study made by the Russell Sage Foundation. The study shows that while all States specify how marriage ceremonies shall be performed only 24 require a ceremony in order to make a marriage valid. In the remaining States a mere private agreement between a man and a woman, without witness or recorded promise, constitutes a marriage if no "impediment" exists. Among the States in which these "common law marriages" are still valid are such large and populous States as New

On the subject of age requirements marked variations were discovered. If their parents consent girls of 12 may still be legally married in the States of Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Virginia. The remaining States have a higher minimum age, usually 14 or 16, though in twelve States where the minimum age is 16 or higher certain specified judges may authorize a marriage if circumstances make such action desirable. A minimum age of 18 obtains in New Hampshire, two years higher than in any other State in the country. The consent of parent or guardian is required in most States whenever either party to the marriage is a legal minor. A general tendency to raise the minimum narriageable age is indicated by recent legislation for this purpose in California, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont.

Hasty marriages with their attendant evils are still possible in most of the States. The decision to marry, issuance of a license and the actual ceremony may all take place within a few hours. In twelve States, however, a period (usually five days) must elapse after the license is applied for before the ceremony may take place and in nine of these the license is not issued until this period has elapsed. Such a law is now in force in all the New England States and in California, Delaware, Georgia, Michigan, New Jersey and Wisconsin. This is one of the most active of present tendencies in marriage legislation. Four of the States mentioned have only recently added this provision to their marriage laws and in 1927, the latest important legislative year, bills for advance notice was introduced into fourteen additional States.

In many States candidates, if qualified, may obtain their marriage license from any issuer to whom they choose to apply. This is held to be a very unfortunate provision. But in Maine, Massachusetts and Rhode Island licenses must be obtained in the city or town in the State where the prospective bride and bridegroom reside. If they live in two different places they must obtain two licenses. Eighteen other States have adopted this principle, but go only half way, requiring applicants to obtain their license in the city or county where one of them, usually the female candidate, resides.

Because no State can forbid its residents to cross the State line evasions of a State's laws are possible through marriages performed in some other State. Eighteen States have passed laws forbidding marriages contracted thus for evasive purposes, but such laws have proved very difficult of enforcement.

Divorce laws and marriage laws cross currents in the provisions which forbid a marriage too soon after divorce, or before divorce decrees have been made final, or when the prospective bride or bridegroom has been divorced because guilty of adultery. Such provisions are in force at present in all States except in Arkansas, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Mr. Hoban lived three Commissioners-Thomas Johnson, Daniel Carroll and David Stuart-Andrew Ellicott, Maj. L'Enfant, and Washington. They all offered suggestions which L'Enfant would not agree to. L'Enfant was then let out, and the plan was then prepared the way they wanted it by Ellicott. This plan received universal applause.

In 1887 a tracing was made by Government draftsmen of the original plan of the city made by L'Enfant in 1791; but the plan made by Ellicott in 1792

Washington suggested to the Commissioners that 500 guineas and a lot in a good part of the city be offered to L'Enfant for his services; while Ellicott demanded $5 a day.

Ellicott's plan showed a grand par laid out on the Mall with edifices located along the sides, which agrees closely with the present plans for the city; while L'Enfant's plan shows the proposed location of columns, founcarried out.

A Joke, Like a Hat, Is Worthless to the Head It Doesn't Fit. By ROBERT QUILLEN=

N era of introspection has given people a new interest in question A Nera of introspection has given people and intelligence tests. Everybody is eager to learn how smart he is.

Most of the tests are given in public and therefore are fruitful of embarrassment, but here is one you can apply in privacy. Observe your reaction to fokes.

Humor is cruel. The smile of amusement is but the animal snarl of satisfaction in another's misfortune. The child laughs when an adult falls. The jokes that amuse us most concern ignorance, misfortune or embarrassment. Vassar girls, given a est, laughed most at jokes based on somebody's ill fortune. It might be argued from this that the ability to appreciate a joke is proof of cruelty and not of intelligence. But all normal people are amused by jokes of some kind. And your degree of intelligence is indicated by the kind of joke you enjoy. If the man on the stage tells a subtle joke, few appreciate it. If he a French cable. Not What Paris res

The humor of comic drawings, movie subtitles and vaudeville skits surveying and making a map of the is a broad and simple humor, designed to amuse children and child minds. It serves its purpose, but it bores the bright.

The joke that amuses the reader of headlines is lost on the one who eads editorial pages. The teacher of psychology, who gave the joke test to Vassar students, discovered that the girls least amused were the brightest. This does not indicate that the sense of humor decreases as intelligence increases, but merely that common jokes, being designed to amuse the majority, lack the subtlety and the keen-edged wit necessary to win

To be appreciated, a joke must contain something unexpected. But the quality of the joke depends wholly on the listener, so that the same poor jest delights the simple because its point surprised them, disgusts the bright because its intent was obvious to them, and puzzles the stupid because the meaning is obscure.

Your reaction to the joke gives the measure of your wit. If you are stupid, you fail to laugh because you can't see the point. If you are bright, you get the point and chuckle. If you see the point and remain unamused, you are too bright to enjoy a commonplace world. (Copyright, 1929.)

"My children despise eggs, yet they ought to have them"

Delight them with this sugar, vanilla and milk egg-nog!

WE RECENTLY heard a mother say that her children simply despise eggs, and yet she knew how much her children needed eggs in

There are many adults also who do not like the taste of eggs. Not only that, but many people, both children and adults, who do like eggs tire of them rather quickly.

Here is a very simple recipe for an egg-nog so delicious that it will satisfy everybody and it is almost mpossible to taste egg in it.

Beat the yolk separately and blend in two teaspoons of sugar, then add half a pint of milk and whip in the beaten egg white; add 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla and beat until frothy. This delicious blend may be varied by adding a tablespoon of chocolate syrup, or a spoonful of ice cream.

This tasteful drink encourages an appetite for eggs and milk, both of which are such beneficial foods for children and adults. As every mother knows, it is absolutely necessary that her children have milk, and it is very important that they have eggs.

Note what a little sugar does for taste. Sugar is nature's ideal flavor. Sugar is not only nutriment in its most inexpensive form-it adds zest and enjoyment to nearly every healthful food that is known. There is no substitute for sugar in the daily diet.

Mob Law Reigns in Bombay, Moslems Being Accused of Kidnaping Children.

BOTH SIDES SUFFERING

Bombay, Peb. 6 (A.P.)—Mob law and terrorism still reigned tonight in this great city. The climax of several days great city. The climax of several days of sanguinary religious warfare came early in the evening when troops on two occasions fired on mobs. Even this measure did not halt the disorders, for in another part of the city a mob of 2,000 Hindus stoned to death three of nine Moslems whom they pursued into the neighborhood of the Mazadaon Police Court.

The Pathans had taken refuge behind the walls of Hindu premises, but they were hunted out, driven into the streets and stoned.

they were hunted out, driven into the streets and stoned.

It was reported that the rage of the Pathans over the manner in which members of their community have been attacked has taken the form of exacting revenge by damaging Hindu temples. Idols have been smashed in several of the temples.

The exact number of casualties since the trouble started over rumors that Moslems were kidnaping Hindu children and sacrificing them in celebration of the opening of a new bridge has not been learned. At least three persons were killed and six wounded when the troops fired today. Thirty bodies of men murdered by rioters have been identified and more than 200 when the troops fired today. Thirty bodies of men murdered by rioters have been identified and more than 200 wounded are in hospitals.

How many more wounded or dead are lying in undiscovered places is problematical. Thus far the police have arrested 54 persons on charges of murder and rioting.

Only one company of infantry was used against the mobs today, but two more companies and three batteries of artillery with armored cars were held in readiness for riot duty tonight.

The Pathans who have been the object of the Hindu attacks, belong to the Afghanistan race. They are Mohammedans and when the trouble etarted the Indian Mohammedans promptly joined forces with the Pathans. The reports of the kidnapings were repeatedly denied, but the rumors ran through the Hindu quarters like wildfire and the denials never caught up with them.

The Pathans are noted in this part of the world for their warlike characteristics. Although generally outnumbered, they have fought fercely against the Hindus and both sides have suffered heavily.

Effort to Curb Speculation Comes With Huge Sums Outside Its Control.

ACTION NOT UNEXPECTED

New York, Feb. 6 (N.Y.W.N.S.) .- Wall street will face tomorrow the first real test of the Federal Reserve Board's control over the credit of the country and particularly its power to curb speculation, as a result of the warning by the board that loans for speculative purposes must cease. The warning is the most drastic ever issued by the board, but it comes at a time when between 40 and 50 per cent of money lent on stocks is completely out of its control. This money represents the funds of wealthy individuals and large corporations who are taking advantage of high call loan rates and are lend-

Brokers Tightening Lines,

Advance information that a warning was to come from the board, or a very generally accepted opinion that this was the fact, caused excitement and a wave of selling in the market today which was checked only by lowering of the call money rate to 6 percent.

The selling flurry today was on gos-sip, but tomorrow bankers and specu-lators face the actual knowledge of the warning. For several days large brokerage houses have been reducing small accounts and tightening up on margin demands, so the market is not in a bad position to assimilate the reaction bad position to assimilate the reaction itself in advances of from 1 to 1½ System system.

action of the board refused to discussions. In discussions in brokerage houses late this afternoon it was pointed out that on all the previous occasions on which the Federal Reserve Bank had lasued warnings it was in a fair way to control the situation by raising the rediscount rate. It also was without the competition of the large amounts of private and corporate funds which have found their way into the market in the recent speculative wave.

Rate Raise Unlikely.

The present situation, however, the board can not raise the rediscount rate, which is 5 per cent, without bringing widespread protest that the legitimate financing of trade is being injured in the move against speculation. When previous warnings were lesued the rate was as low as 3½ per cent, and this left a margin for increases which would not affect commercial loans on merchandise and other staple loans.

The lure of high rates, it is believed in many quarters in Wall street, will keep a very large amount of private funds in the loan market.

IN NIGHT CLUB CASE

Bench Warrants Issued for Failure to Appear in Federal Court.

New York. Feb 6 (A.P.) .- Thirteen of the scores of night club proprietors and employes who were indicted after wholesale prohibition raids last summer are threatened with arrest again.

Bench warrants were issued for them today, after they had failed to show up in Federal court when their cases were called. Now the United States marshal is looking for them. Among the thirteen is Nils T. Granlund, radio announcer known as "N. T. G"

Continuing his policy of imposing prison sentences as well as fines, Judge Edwin Thomas, Connecticut, sitting in Federal court here, sent five night club men to jail today. All were associated with the Knight Club, in West Piftyfirst street.

He sentenced Henry A. Sundock, proprietor, who pleaded guilty to maintaining a nuisance, to three months' imprisonment and fined him $600.

Alvin Felshir, said to have been Sundock's partner, convicted of nuisance charges with three amployes of the club, was given a sentence of five months and $600. I'm employes were sentenced to three months and $200 each.

Granlund, Sundock and the other night club defendants were arrested in a series of raids last summer. Indictments against them charged violation of the prohibition laws, but when it was found difficult to obtain convictions, the charge was changed to that of maintaining a nuisance. Several convictions have resulted, and Judge Thomas has imposed both fines and prison sentences.

Low School Marks Send Girls Touring

Small Pistol and Two Cans of Soup Carried on Trip to Florida.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 6 (A.P.).—Report cards with too many marks below passing grades account for two young high school girls from Greensboro, N. C., spending today in Sarasota instead of at their classes in the Carolina city, they revealed.

Faced with the problem of having to take home report cards with "failure to make grade" written on them, Alice Hayes, 18, and Florence Younger, 15, said they decided to leave their school books and make an unheralded visit to their old friends here—the family of Tim Malone.

Armed with a small automatic pistol, two cans of soup, a box of crackers and overnight bags covered with college stickers, the girls set out for Florida last Saturday. Hiking and getting rides from motorists, they arrived here last night and dropped in unex-pectedly on the Malones. Their par-ents were notified and J. D. Younger, father of Florence, is due here tonight.

HOUSE TO GET BACK FRENCH EDITORIALS CRUISER BILL TODAY SCORE CRUISER VOTE

Declared Opening Business, Le Temps Asserts America Its Immediate Adoption Is in Prospect.

(Associated Press.) Carrying but two Senate amend nents, the cruiser bill is to be returned of the day, with its immediate adoption in prospect.

Under an agreement reached with Speaker Longworth, Chairman Britten of parity with Great Britain, was found in either article.

Both, however, accepted unquestionments. Should an objection be made, which Chairman Britten believes is doubtful, leaders in the House have ments, pacific intentions and superior ments, pacific intentions and superior

July 1, are under way in the House. Chairman Britten said that if the House should adopt the amendments and the President sign the bill before the House has completed action on the annual naval supply bill this week, he would offer an amendment to provide $12,475,000 for beginning work on five cruisers and the aircraft carrier.

This would permit $2,000,000 to be spent the first year on each of the five cruisers and the carrier, with $275,000 to be spent at Mare Island, Calif.; Puget Sound, Wash... and New York Navy Yards for ship ways, and $200,000 for the Washington Navy Yard gun factory.

Britten is confident that the measure will be adopted by the House to-morrow, and that it will be approved by the President. He predicted little, if any, opposition to the Borah and Reed amendment providing for the negotiation of treaties to define the wartime rights of neutrals at sea, He likewise felt there would be no opposition to the other amendment providing for the purchase by the Navy from ship yards of materials not manufactured by the Navy.

No Amendments.

"The cruiser bill will be taken from the Speaker's desk and immediately passed as amended by the Senate." Britten declared. "No amendments to the bill will be permitted in order to prevent the measure going to conference, which would automatically carry it into the Senate chamber again, where a filibuster might prevent its passage before March 4.

"It is evident that the House is in no mood to brook interference with the immediate passage of the bill. Every indication in the House portends an immediate desire for steel ship construction in the various ship-building plants of the country. It is evident that the people back home have given their representatives in Congress to understand that steel ships and not paper ones are demanded and needed by the Nation."

ALL PRECAUTIONS TAKEN BRITISH VIEW IS FAVORED

Paris, Feb. 6 (A.P.) .- The passage of the cruiser bill by the American Senate evoked long editorials today in both Le today to the House as the first business Temps and the Journal Des Debats. Little sympathy for America's claims as submit a motion proposing the unanimous adoption of the Senate amendments. Should an objection be made, which Chairman Britten believes is doubtful, leaders in the House have prepared to bring in a special rule which will make the action in order without debate.

The House leaders are taking this method of reaching what they hope is final legislative action on the cruiser bill to avoid referring the measure to conference, which might again take it before the Senate and result in the bill being caught in a last-minute legislative jam.

Plans for Construction.

Ingly statements by Sir Austen Chamberlan, foreign secretary; W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admirate lord of the admirative jam carriers in the scrapping of warships. "One can deduce from yesterday's action in the Senate," said Le Temps, "that the great majority of the American representatives favor a policy tending to assure the development of the naval power of the United States in such condition as not only to attain effective parity with Britain, but also in order that mastery of the oceans may definitely be acquired by Americans."

The article said that the security re-

The article said that the security quirements of Great Britain and the United States differed and that an absolute parity between the two navies con-stituted a false conception of equality. The article added:

"But Americans have considered the question only from the point of view of their own pride. They will admit that there might be in any domain, especially in that mastery of the seas, a nation more powerful than the United States. As long as this particular point of view, which has nothing in common with the real needs of national defense, prevails across the Atlantic, an agreement for limitation of naval armaments that would be acceptable to all interested powers, will be difficult to find."

England now, in the opinion of Journal des Debats, must proceed to a new examination of the naval question. The paper conceded that the late lamented Anglo-French naval accord, as well as the breakdown of the tripartite conference at Geneva, provoked the American decision to increase its sea power.

"Other powers, including France, have great interests at stake in the question, but it is especially England which is affected by the Senate action," and, the newspaper said, the London cabinet wonders whether it must sen-

America.

The article reminded England that Anglo-French and Anglo-American friendships were not incompatible. It added: "Despite what some Englishmen still say, England is a European and continental power. She is no longer the island which she was up to the beginning of this century. She must adopt policies with that fact in mind."

Comment in London.

London, Feb. 6 (A.P.).—Passage by the United States Senate of its naval building bill drew varying editorial comment from London papers today. The Times expressed a belief that there is no need to hurry further dis-armament pegotiations.

there is no need to hurry further dis-armament negotiations.

"Clearly there is time for inquiry, and still more clearly is there need for it." the Times says. "No British inter-est is adversely affected by the Senate's decision. To the British mind no rivalry arises or can arise so long as the com-munity of view between the two na-tions on large issues is for the most part spontaneous, in all respects de-sirable and, realistically considered, vital to both."

The Chronicle, antigovernment, sees in the decision of the Senate a reaction to what it declares is the competitive naval building policy of the present naval building policy of the present British government.

"The United States," it says, "would never have listened to the more trucin-lent voices in their midst if our govern-ment had not adopted the worn-out principle of naval rivalry at Geneva and revealed in its foreign policy a leaning to the method of alliances and ompetition between groups of powers.

SCREENS BEHIND

Next week will witness the begin-ning of a period of uneasiness on the part of the motion picture managers of this and other cities. Not any such season of feverish anxiety as is imposed by the Yuletide or Holy Week, but still a forty-day interval that needs must be watched for its every manihardly heeding him more than if his face had been the narrow grating through which she was pouring her woes: "It's inconceivable, but it's so. festation of public reaction to the programs that are presented. Lent, as I understand it, begins the day fol-lowing Lincoln's birthday, February

This movable feast, with its churchly obligation of personal penance, prob-ably now imposes less of the duty of abjuring the picture theater than ever before in the history of the cinema. Believe it or not, Will H. Hays and his associates have succeeded, during their incumbency in office as representatives of the foremost producers in America, in eliminating from the screen a majority of all those objectionable qualities that might reasonably be expected to deaden one's appreciation of life's finer things. In fact, the movies seem to have progressed to a point where to have progressed to a point where their temporary ban as a means of to have progressed to a point where their temporary ban as a means of humbling the spirit may only be invoked upon the ground that they provide a greater meed of innocent entertainment than one might better permit the list of the season's most successful audible film plays. No less has been claimed for "The Wolf of Wall Street,"

The screen has gone far since the days when it was not possible to harmonize its questionable extravagances with the worthler things of life.

It is in "The Wolf of Wall Street"

Pursuing the thought just one jump further, it may be said that while two of the downtown first-run houses will continue their present attractions through a second week, the extraordinary merit proclaimed as part and parcel of the other three that come in Friday midnight and Saturday offer adequate compensation to those whose enthusiasm does not quite encompass a ready response to the managerial admonition to "see it twice." The Fox, Earle and Palace all step out with talk-ing pictures that have been highly ac-claimed in the other key cities where finds her voice—not only in speech, but in song. I have heard a great deal about Bacianova's preeminence as a dramatic soprano, and likewise about how impossible it is to recognize the supposedly English words of her lyrics.

Any slight distortion of accustomed sound occasioned by a prevalent Russiar accent won't mar her singing any for me. I covered concerts for a good many years, a good many years ago, and I have never yet listened to a dramatic soprano that didn't sound precisely like that anyway!

As long as we have gone this far, it might as well be added that Nancy Carroll may be admired next week on the garrulous silver sheets of both the Earle and the Palace. She is, of course, the lead in "The Shopworn Angel," opposite Gary Cooper, and, '20, I understand, has considerably more than minor role

It is in "The Wolf of Wall Street" that George Bancroft, in the t'tle role, becomes audible for the first time. It is minformed by those who have previewed the picture that he does a particularly effective bit of work here, and it that despite the fact that he may wear a white collar in one or two sequences, the part is a long, long way from being "silk stocking." Well, white collars are apt to be a bit removed from silk sox at that, by the very nature of the teast.

It is in this picture also that Baclanova, the fiaming ember from Russia, finds her voice—not only in speech, but in song. I have heard a great deal about sopprano, and likewise about how impossible it is to recognize the suppos-

What 59 years have taught us about making gasoline

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was a pioneer in refining gasoline. Since the first automobile was built "Standard" has been-both in quantity and quality-the leader in the refining and supplying of this necessary motor fuel.

This company has spent millions of dollars in research work and in the development of new and better processes of making gasoline. What has been the result? Just this—that you can depend on finding in every gallon of "Standard" Gasoline these qualities:

Easy Starting—even in coldest weather.

Quick Acceleration-a necessary thing in traffic.

Power, Steady and Reliable-for hill climbing and long, hard runs.

Mileage Efficiency-proved over and over by road tests in every type of car.

Safety to Motor-a fuel that cannot possibly injure your Complete Combustion—a fuel that burns cleanly, leaving practically no carbon, and burns com- tely, leaving no "loose ends" to seep down and dilute the motor oil in the crank case.

Uniformity—you can set your carburetor on "Standard" and forget it, for every gallon is like every other gallon wherever you may buy it.

Availability-"Standard" Gasoline has the further advantage of being easily obtained, as our Red "Standard" Pumps are conveniently located throughout the length and breadth of

This rare combination of qualities makes "Standard" the best all-'round gasoline on the market. The fact that it outsells any other brand of gasoline in this state by more than 2 to 1, is evidence of its superior qualities.

Use "Standard" Gasoline and you will get unvarying fuel satisfaction.

Break With Wake Forest Declared by Richmond U. Richmond, Va., Feb. 6 (A.P.) .-

coach Frank Dobson, of the Uniersity of Richmond, said today that it was not likely that Richmond would meet Wake Forest in athletic again because of trouble growing out of basket ball game here last night between the Spiders and the Deacons. Dobson said that two of the Wake Forest players were put out during the last half by Referee J. R. Holladay and some of the Deacons made an effort to attack Holladay after the game.

One player was ejected for four personal fouls, and the referee said the other was put out for using profanity.

The Deacons lost, 47 to 32, after leadng at half time, 19 to 11.

Coach Dobson expressed his regret over the affair and said it was not likely to happen again.

"It is likely that we will not meet
Wake Forest in athletics again," Coach

Dobson said today.

"We have one contract remaining with them, that for football next October. I shall communicate with the president, and if any of these basket ball players are on the football team we don't want to play them. Mehlhorn to Ask P.G.A. Why He's Not on Team

New York, Feb. 6 (U.P.) .- "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, the golf professional, who was omitted from the Ryder cup team, is coming to New York this month to find out why. Mehlhorn will be one of the attractions at the fourth interna tional golf show February 18-23, and while here will ask the Professional Golfers' Association for an explanation of his failure to be named on the 1929 team.

That the Mehlhorn matter is far from settled was indicated by the attitude of Jack Mackie, veteran Inwood professional and secretary of the P. G. A.

Since the Ryder Cup Team was ansounced without Mehlhorn's name, "Wud Bill" has won three major tournaments in succession. He won the Et Paso open with 271, a new world's record for 72 holes. Gonzaga and Devitt Fives Win in Prep League Games

Both Winners Forced to Come

At this juncture Capt. Dyer, of Gallaudet, was banished for four personals, the Silents losing offensive power as a result. They lost none of their tenactousness, however. Hokanson, Coegrove and Ringle later connected from scrimmage to cut down their handicap to 3 points.

Augusterfer added another point the Johnnier lead in the first minut of the second period but shortly after ward Danny Fyne, who, with Bussinl proved Gonzaga's big guns throughou the game, knotted the count by drh bling the entire length of the floor score from under the net and Bussin repeated the play to place the Furpl back in the vant.

Gonzaga Loads 19-9 at Half After Bombarding Basket:

Although differing as to other details, four of the five whose views are published in the current issue of the New York A. C. Organ, "The Winged Poot," agree that the responsibility of picking the American team must be given to a small committee with arbitrary authority rather than to have the make up of the team hinge entirely on the outcome of a tryout meet.

This suggestion is made in one form or another by Harry Hillman, Dartmouth, Edward L. Parrell, Harvard; Keens Pitzpatrick, Princeton: Jack Ryder, Boston College, and Harry Gill, University of Illinois. Parrell, McVean, Pyne and Bussink ket for the rest of the second sessi start to finish in the next two quarters the Eye-Streeters kept safely ahead, with Pyne dominating the scoring in the final period with a floor goal and Devitt's supremacy over Emerson was not brought into evidence until midway the second quarter. Emerson gained the lead in the first period, 8

Gleason, high scorer for Devitt with 9 points, put the Upton street quintet on the long end of the score never to be headed just as the first period closed by dribbling under the net to cage a fielder and sinking two free tosses awarded because he was fouled.

Chicago, Feb. 6 (A.P.).—Ranking Catholic high school basket ball teams of the country meet in a world's series of their own at Loyola University, March 21-24.

De La Salle, of Joliet, Ill., twice champions, will defend their title against 32 teams winning State and sectional tournaments.

Teams from 21 States entered the Loyola competition last year. Since 1924, when the meet was begun, an Illinois team has won every year except in 1926, when the St. Xavier Midgets of Louisville, Ky., won the title.

Devitt finished the second period with a lead of 18 to 12 and appeared ready to make a runniway of the contest, but Gordon came to Emerson's aid in the early part of the third common from short range. This was the signal for another Devitt spurt which saw Clarke, Gleason and Tangora tally from iong distances to run the score up to 24 to 16. Gordon added two points on fouls to Emerson's total and Gleason dropped in one for Devitt as the period ended.

Play in the final period was marred by frequent wild passes by both teams, the players surging from one end of the court to the other in scoring attempts only to fail because their passes were poorly directed. The official scorer had nothing to do but twiddle his thumbs for six minutes of. this period, but Galotta finally erased the vapidness of the action by heaving the sphere through the rim from the center of the floor. Davidson counted from under for Emerson a half-minute before hostilities ceased.

Radice and Evans in Star Roles: Score Tied 5 Times.

special to The Washington Post. EXINGTON, VA., Feb. 6.—In the fastest and most exciting game played on the local floor this season, Virginia Military Institute went down before a battling Maryland Quintet by a score of 30 to 27. The Old Liners were trailing in the first half, 16 to 19, and were forced to break three ties in the first half and two in the second before taking the winning lead a minute before the final whistle. The shooting and all-around floor games of Radice and Evans gave the Terrapins the edge, though Barnes. Terrapins the edge, though Barnes, Scott and Hewlett played stellar basket ball for V. M. I. Scott was high scorer, with five field goals and a free shot for 11 points, while Hewlett made good five out of six foul tries besides provnve out of six foul tries besides proving a tower of defensive strength.

Gaylor started the scoring for Maryland with a neat goal from the floor, but Scott dropped in a free throw for the Cadets and Capt. Harner followed with a field goal. Score Tied Three Times Before Cadets Lead, 19-16, at Half.

Capt. Dean netted a two-pointer for Maryland, but Harner made the first Gladman tle with a foul shot. Gaylor and Madigan put the Terrapins out in front again, only to have Brown and Barnes knot the count for the second time Evans tallied twice in quick succession but again the Cadets, with Hewlett and Scott sinking long shots, fought back Scott sinking long shots, longing to a tie.

Scott, Barnes and Harner then found the range from the floor and foul line to put the Cadets ahead, 19 to 16, at to put the Cadets anead, 19 to 16, at the half.

Both teams guarded closely after the intermission, but Hetzel, Maryland substitute, finally tied the score with a foul throw with seven minutes to go. Hewlett dropped in two free shots, but Evans again deadlocked the teams with a pretty one-hand shot. Once more the Cadets took the lead by a single point but Radice sank a long one with one minute to go, and Gaylor increased the lead with an easy one under the basket as the game ended.

ITTLE COLONEL. Hop to this maverick the Black Gold Handicap, fifth race, at the Fair Grounds. Track is almost a sea of mud and oh, how this fellow loves it. SHASTA KLAN was a keen contender on his last visit to the post and looks like the runner-up.

BLACK THUNDER, an overdue good thing, has a good chance to graduate from the maiden ranks in the opening spasm. He has the early speed and that will help a lot in this bad field. GOULASH'S last effort gives him the call in the second. OLD KID is bound to be a keen factor over the route. The third appears to have been made to order for GOTHAM. Last-Period Rally by Freshmen Decides 26-21 Game.

A LAST period rally led by Tibbetts, star center, carried the C. U. Freshmen to a 26-21 victory over the hard-flighting Central High Quintet in a preliminary to the C. U.-Fordham game at Brockland last night. Showing great accuracy from the 16-foot mark, Coggins proteges led at the half 10 to 8.

At the start of the second half, Cross proceeded to put Central into a sevenpoint lead, but the loss of Romig and Lampson by the foul route seriously weakened the Blue and White defense, and the Cardinal Frosh were quick to take advantage. Tibbetts and Clemons were the spearheads in this belated attack, between them sinking seven consecutive foul touses in the final quarter. Central High. G For PC Catoss. If. 2 3 7 (Clemons. G. Wolstenholme Goes to Arcadias in Shifts

The District bowling league board of directors have approved the transfer of five of its duckpin artists to other teams. Probably the most prominent of the transfers is that of Glenn Wolstenholme from the championship Convention Hall Club to the Arcadia Team. Upon the return of "Reds" Megaw to Washington, Wolstenholme has been placed at the Arcadia and accordingly will roll with that team.

Curb Cafe will be strengthened by the addition of two players, George Friend, formerly of King Pin, and Ollie Pacini of the Petworth Club Swain, of the Stanford Paper Co. team, has been assigned to bowl with Meyer Davis, and Burton Parsons was picked up by Arcadia upon his release by Petworth.

courage West to continue the suit if the Declarer should not play the Ace. If East did not play the Jack on trick, West would place the Ace and Jack in South's hand and rhift so as not to lead up to them.

South would hold up the Ace of Clubs until the third round and then lead a small Diamond. If West plays small as he should, Dummy will play the Ten and East will win the trick and lead a Spade which South will win and then run three more Diamonds.

The discard which East is forced to make on the last Diamonds must be awkward. If he lets go a Spade, Declarer can lead his high Spade, then the Ace of Hearts and another Heart, which he passes up to East, forcing him to lead Hearts up to Dummy. If East discards a Heart, it is easy for Declarer to lose one Heart to East and make up the long Heart in Dummy.

Youmans to Present His Latest Hits

Young Scion of Wealth to Offer 3 Songs Over WRC. "Barber of Seville" on WMAL at 8 P. M. Whoopie Trio on WJSV.

Vincent coumans, modest and retiring young gentleman who started out in life to be an engineer or a banker, only to find that the ivories on a plano interested him far more than did calculus or greenbacks, will be in the studios of the National Broadcasting Co. at 8 o'clock tonight, to present personally three of his latest song hits as features of the Song Shop. One of them never before has been sung in

The three are "Who Am I (that you should care for me)," which is the newest; "The One Girl" and "I Want a These will be heard through WRC.

Youmans, still in his twenties and the "baby" of Broadway producers by a margin of several years, first came into prominence with the scores of such tuneful song and dance shows as "Two Little Girls in Blue," "Wildflower,"
"Lollipop," "No, No Nanette" and "Oh,
Please." He hit the top with "Hit the Deck," his initial effort at producing his own shows. His ambition is to produce just one more show of his own and then retire to Europe to study music and compose an opera.

Fritz Kreisier's "Old Refrain" is a feature of the entertainment to be broadcast from the weekly reception at the home of Halsey, Stuart's "Old Counselor" at 10 o'clock from WRC.

How many mother readers will agree with a girl correspondent who states: "In the course of my mother's life there were times when I knew she gift wrapping of gifts is an art in which so only persons of delicate sensibilities and refined tastes can indulge.

Whenever you wrap a gift try to wrap it so that it is both an expression of your own individuality and an appreciation of the taste of the person who is going to receive it.

For instance, the gift for the little girl friend with "a lotsa" blue eyes and more blond curls than that, requires an entirely different covering than does the gift for Mgr. l'Elegant. And their appreciation of the gift will be greatly ephaneas by their appreciation.

And their appreciation of the gift will be greatly enhanced by their apprecia-tion of the good taste with which you present it!

In the Sunday issue Mme. Dare's weekly letter will appear. Make it a point to read it!

HOW TO KEEP WELI

THE SPREAD OF LIBERTY.

HIS matter of liberty is catching.
It is now permissible for grandmas to wear short skirts, bob their mas to wear short skirts, bob their hair, and smoke cigarettes. It is extending downward as well. There are physicians who think the best way to feed a year old baby is to put him up to the table and let him pick and choose.

Clara M. Davis gives her experience with three 1-year-old bables who were tried out on this plan. One was fed that way for one year and the other two for six months. They kept healthy, grew normally, and prospered in every way. They were not constipated nor did they develop bowel trouble. A rather unexpected development was that those at-liberty children developed some suggestion of table manners. It is not wholly correct to say the children were at liberty to eat what they pleased. Certain food, such as green corn, cucumbers, radishes, and cheese, were not placed before them. A fairly wide range of foods were set in front of the child. He could eat whatever he pleased and as much as he pleased. Here is a sample one day diet of a 1-year-old child, the amount being determined by weighing and measuring before and after.

Breakfast: Milk. 2-3 ounce: soured

Breakfast: Milk, 2-3 ounce; soured milk, 1 1-3 ounces; raw apple, 2-3 ounce; cooked apple, 3 1-3 ounces; orange juice, 3 1-3; cooked wheat cereal, 2 ounces; cooked barley cereal, ½ ounce; cooked liver, ½ ounce; cooked sweetbreads, 1 2-3 ounces.

Dinner at noon: Milk, 11 ounces; crisp rye bread, ¼ ounce; raw bone marrow, 15 grains; cooked bone marrow, 30 grains; raw beef, ½ ounce; cooked beef, 60 grains; cooked lamb, 2-3 ounce; cooked beet, 60 grains; cooked corn meal, 15 grains. Supper at 5 p. m.: Milk, 4 ounces; bone jelly, 2-3 ounce; cooked haddock 2-3 ounce; poached egg, 1 ounce; raw bananas, 18 ounces; orange, 2 ounces; raw oats, 1-3 ounce, and cooked oats,

The infant was set at a table with food before him. He was not told to take anything. If he reached for a food and it was not close by he was handed it. If he took something he did not like, he would spit it out. After that he would not choose that food. If he took too much of one ar-ticle at one meal, it was noticed that he would eat lightly of that food for a few days.

It was noticed that children spontaneously begin softening toast by dipping it in milk or water at about 11 months of age.

independence, usefulness and contentment of a girl or wife?

These are enticing questions. They are answered "yes" in the will of a well-known journalist who left a fortune to his widow, to his married daughter, to his granddaughter and to his niece. But his bequests to his male relatives were very decidedly cut.

His will amplifies his unique idea of larger bequests to women than to man by stating: "Inheritance to a man often furnishes an excuse to spare himself the strenuous efforts and exertions without which a man can not discover, even for himself, such talent as he has nor escape deterioration of character nor achieve any object in life worth attaining."

This conclusion was reached by a man who was rich in world's experimence and the world's goods. He had had abundant opportunities for wide observance of how rich men's sons reacted to a big inheritance.

Hardahip, poverty and want, in his opinion, are the best incentives and the best foundation for the success of a boy or a married man.

To keep present and future hubbles' hands tied he stated: "All bequests to women or to girls are made for their sole and separate "e, entirely free from any rights of any other person."

Most parents think that hardship for their own children is a handicap and so they slave that the next generation may enjoy the horn of plenty.

Can it be that an inheritance of ease for a boy may be a catastrophe? And that an inheritance of money for a

What's Behind Your Stock

Standard Milling Co. of the world's largest flour milling concerns, has a well established line of products, including well-known brands such as Hecker's Superlative Flour, Hecker's Farina, Ceresota, H-O Catmeal, Fresto and Force. Expansion, while continuous, has been conservatively managed, having been financed largely by issues of common stock or securities convertible into it, and from surplus earnings.

The company's manufacturing fa-plus earnings.

The company's manufacturing facilities are strategically located both from the viewpoint of accessibility to the wheat-growing areas and the flour markets. As transportation costs are an important factor in this business, the company benefits accordingly. Plants are at Minneapolis, Superior, Kansas City, Buffalo, New York City and several points in Canada.

Net income of $1,699,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1928, compared with net of $1,773,000 for the previous year. The decrease reflected price declines and narrow profit margin in the latter half of the calendar year 1927.

History and Business: Investment Company was organized June 18, 1926, under the laws of the State of Delaware, to acquire, hold, sell, underwrite and generally to deal in domestic securities of any nature. The proposed amendments to the Certificate of Incorporation will add the power to deal in foreign securities also. It is the policy of the Managers at present to limit themselves to domestic securities. The Company has been operated profitably since organization and affords investors an opportunity to invest in a diversified list of securities and in financial operations which might not be available to them as indi-

Assets: The Company will receive $20,100,000 in cash from the proposed sale of 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock, and the accompanying 100,000 shares of Common Stock and the Warrants for 100,000 shares of Common Stock. The equity of $10,986,721 back of this 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock will arise in part from new capital subscribed by the Managers and in part from profits, realized and unrealized, as of December 31, 1928, on the basis above indicated.

The proposed recapitalization involves no change in the man-Management: agement of the Company. The Board of Directors will consist of members of the firm of A. G. The Managers' Warrants for 250,000 shares of Common Stock will entitle the holder at any time and from time to time before January 1, 1939, to purchase Common Stock of the Company at the rates of $15,00, $17.50 and $20.00 per share, for the first and second hundred thousand and the last fifty thousand shares, respectively, as to which such Managers' Warrants

SENATE'S AMENDED MERGER PROPOSAL OFFERED IN HOUSE

New Resolution Is Held, Much More Desirable From Public Viewpoint.

IS COMING UP AT NEXT COMMITTE MEETING

Does Away With $50,000,000 Fixed Valuation Set in Previous One.

The new Senate resolution to authorze a street car merger here was introed in the House yesterday by Chair man Zihlman, of the House District mittee. It supplants the old merresolution which the committee favorably reporte at the last session.

Ziniman plans to call up the resolu-tion at the next meeting of the com-mittee Wednesday. Inasmuch as the committee approved the old resolution, it seems fair to assume that it will ap-prove the new one without hesitancy. However, it may or may not work out that way.

New One Desirable

New One Desirable.

The new resolution, which was approved by the Senate District committee two days ago, is much more desirable from a public standpoint than the one it how supplants in the House.

The House resolution authorized the merged company to have a $50,000.0 for saluation or rate base; the Senate resolution provides that the lines n'est morge without a fixed valuation. The flouse resolution provided that the firesent rate of fare should be continued for a year; the new resolution guarantees its continuance for two years. Nez Perces Draw Line At Parade in Regalia

Lewiston, Idaho, Feb. 6 (A.P.) -When those in charge of Herbert Hoover's inaugural pageantry planned to have eight members of every Indian tribe in the United States march in the parade, they did not reckon with the dignity of the Nez Perces.

After a tribal powwow yesterday the Nez Perce chiefs announced that "although other tribes may send warriors to march in the great parade for Herbert Hoover, the Nez Perces will not. It is undignified for them to dress up in feathers and parade for anybody, even the Great White Father."

President Coolidge will not be the only member of his family to participate officially in the cermonies attendant upon the inauguration of his successor, Herbert Hoover. Maj. John Coolidge, the President's only son, is coming to town March 4 as a member of the official staff of Gov. John N. Trumbull of Connecticut.

The inaugural committee learned yesterday that Gov. Trumbull, who had personally received an invitation from the President-elect to come to Washington for the ceremony, will be accompanied by his two companies of footguard, and military staff, of which Maj. Coolidge is a member.

Mrs. Trumbull and Miss Florence Trumbull, flancee of the President's son, also will be in the party, and it will be Maj. Coolidge's privilege to see his father pass into private life.

The Connecticut General Assembly yesterday appropriated $10,000 for the expenses of the trip, Associated Press dispatches said, and the inaugural committee had reason to suppose that Gov. Trumbull's party would be an outstanding group during the celebration.
